

COOPI PRESENCE IN THE COUNTRY

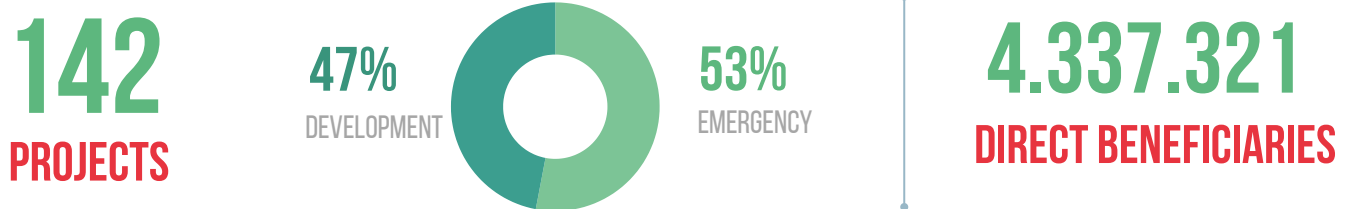

Since 1976, COOPI has been working in Chad, a country deeply marked by continuous migration, the presence of armed groups, and climate change, all of which expose the population to acute vulnerability, particularly in terms of nutritional and food insecurity.

In the country, COOPI intervenes with a multi-sectoral approach. In the Lac and N'Djamena regions, it provides emergency education for internally displaced children and local communities, offers psychosocial support to victims of trauma, and promotes peace building, with a particular focus on women's empowerment, gender-based violence and discrimination, and conflict prevention.

In the Ouaddai, Sila, and Salamat regions, COOPI has developed projects on agro pastoralism, particularly with regard to conflict prevention and management between farmers and pastoralists and participatory management of agro pastoral resources.

Since May 2023 in response to the Sudanese crisis, COOPI has been working in Sila alongside refugees with projects in the areas of child protection and WASH.

FROM 1976 TO 2022:

MAIN AREAS OF INTERVENTION

PROTECTION

Protection activities are a constant component of COOPI's projects in Chad, with a particular focus on women and children.

Protection problems are not the only ones that generate impacts on the physical, cognitive, and socio-affective development of children. Basic rights such as education and health are not guaranteed by the state, weakened by lack of resources and the presence of armed groups. Therefore, COOPI is on the front line in Chad to respond to this emergency through:

- IMPROVEMENT OF AND ACCESS TO QUALITY AND INCLUSIVE PROTECTIVE SERVICES FOR SCHOOL-AGE AND VULNERABLE CHILDREN AND ADOLESCENTS;
- CAPACITY BUILDING OF COMMUNITIES IN TERMS OF PSYCHOSOCIAL, SOCIO-ECONOMIC AND EDUCATIONAL REINTEGRATION;
- MONITORING OF STREET CHILDREN AND UNACCOMPANIED MINORS;
- STRENGTHENING GOVERNANCE AND INTEGRATED COORDINATION BETWEEN LOCAL AUTHORITIES, HEALTH PROFESSIONALS AND TEACHERS;
- AWARENESS RAISING AND ACTIVITIES TO PREVENT VIOLATIONS OF CHILDREN'S RIGHTS.
